

FIRST STYLE SHOW A GREAT SUCCESS

Many Visitors View Newest Fall Fashions at the Gold Mine Department Store.

BEAUTIFUL GOWNS ADMIRER

Bevy of Attractive Young Ladies Present Latest Models of Season's Wearing Apparel.

One of the most notable exhibits of fashions that has ever been seen in Seymour was the fall style show, which was held last night at the Gold Mine Department Store. This exhibition, in which gowns, coats, suits and hats of the latest cut were worn and exhibited by a bevy of charming young ladies of Seymour, was an entirely new departure in displaying styles in this city. Mr. Nathan Kaufman, one of the proprietors and manager of the Gold Mine, is to be much commended for his effort to give the ladies of Seymour the very best opportunity to obtain handsome garments and correct styles in Seymour. The exhibit was truly metropolitan in its character and the fact that the ladies of Seymour appreciated it, was amply shown by the very large crowd that attended the opening and remained throughout the entire evening.

The young ladies who took part in the show and displayed the gowns were Misses Helen Galbraith, Augusta Grelle, Luella Toms, Adelaide Hodapp, Alice Oesting, Faye Baxter and Mrs. Linden Hodapp. The style exhibit was held on the second floor, which was beautifully decorated with flowers and handsome merchandise. Barkman's orchestra played throughout the evening. Strips of white canvass made a promenade around the entire second floor and the young ladies walked slowly around the entire room, so that every one present might have a satisfactory view of each model worn.

The young ladies first appeared in tailored suits and hats. The suits were each of a distinctive style and the appreciation of the audience was evidenced by the hearty applause that greeted the approach of each charmingly gowned young lady.

Miss Hodapp wore a beautiful brown, velvet suit and hat, which were trimmed in fur. Both the short coat and skirt were cut with the simple straight lines which are so popular this season.

Mrs. Hodapp charmingly exhibited a very handsome black cloth suit with a color of white fox. The contrast in color and the distinctive style of the suit made this a favorite model.

Miss Toms wore a black and brown checked suit which was attractive because of its simplicity.

Miss Baxter presented a black gaberdine of exceptional beauty and Miss Oesting a dark brown cloth suit which had for its distinctive note an elaborate trimming of natural fox.

Miss Grelle also wore brown broad cloth which was trimmed in bone buttons and Miss Galbraith, a blue broadcloth of charming design and the popularity of fur trimming in this season's models was here emphasized

FARMERS TALKING ABOUT BIG DINNER

Callers at the Farmers' Club Say All Parts of the County Will be Represented.

CELEBRATION ON OCTOBER 9

Arrangements Will be Made to Accommodate Crowd in The Attractive Dining Room.

Visitors from various parts of the county who called at the Farmers' Club today said there is growing interest in the basket dinner which is to be held in this city Saturday, October 9, in celebration of the first anniversary of the founding of the Club. All of the callers said they were preparing to spend next Saturday here and had been informed that many of their neighbors were also planning to participate in the unique celebration.

The basket dinner originated with the farmers who are interested in the local club and who realize the many advantages that are offered there to visiting farmers and their families. All of the arrangements for the dinner are in charge of a special committee and an interesting program will be rendered.

The committee having charge of the program has not announced the names of the speakers, but it is understood that several men who are prominent in Indiana will attend. It has been suggested that a program of music be prepared and is pointed out that many of the wives and daughters of farmers in this county are talented musicians and would gladly give their services for this occasion.

Reports from all sections of the county say that the farmers are much interested in the unique celebration and several townships have entered into a contest in an effort to have the largest representation present. Such friendly rivalry will result in a large attendance.

According to the present plans the dinner will be served in the dining room at the Farmers' Club. The small tables that are used in the dining room will be placed together so as to form one long table extending from one side of the room to the other. Arrangements will also be made to install a temporary table to accommodate the visitors. It is not thought that it will be possible to serve all the visitors in the dining room at one time and several tables will be prepared.

The plan which has been announced by the committee, is for each family attending the dinner to bring a well filled basket. The idea is to have a big "family" dinner and an assurance is given that the table will be crowded with appetizing dishes.

The number of visitors at the Club is steadily increasing and averages between twenty and thirty each day. Quite a number of families enjoyed their dinner at the Club Building today and for some it was their first visit. They were much impressed with the accommodations provided

Settlers Tell Story of Pigeon Roost Massacre

A story concerning the Pigeon Roost massacre November 3, 1812, based on information obtained from the old settlers of Clark county was printed in the Indianapolis News Friday afternoon. It was written by Herman Rave. As many persons here are interested in the history of this massacre, the article is reproduced below:

Who was the instigator and who were the perpetrators of the Pigeon Roost massacre September 3, 1812? The question has often been answered, but always the answer has in turn been questioned. Probably there never was as much assurance in the answers as there is in the answers made by the old settlers of Clark county, and their answers are questioned.

Soon after the battle of Tippecanoe November 11, 1811, there drifted into Union township, in the northwestern part of Clark county, a band of fifty Indians with their squaws and children, headed by a chief, according to the word handed down by descendants of Clark county pioneers. He was tall, well built, strong and in the prime of manhood. His face was of the classical Roman type. He was a man of dignity, taciturnity and sternness. He had only one wife, to whom he was devoted, and besides her he had a beautiful daughter and two stalwart sons. It

TAG DAY OBSERVED FOR THE HOSPITAL

Eight Pretty Young Ladies Aid the Auxiliary in Raising Funds for Institution.

WILL OPEN BOXES TONIGHT

Money will be Used for Purchase of Linens and Other Supplies That Are Needed.

Nearly everybody in the city today was decorated with one or more little cardboard tags which indicated that they had contributed to the City Hospital fund. "Tag Day" which has been conducted annually for the benefit of the hospital, was under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of that institution and the money that will be collected will be turned into the general fund to buy such things as are needed.

Eight young ladies were in charge of the distribution of the tags and are striving to collect a substantial amount for this institution. The young ladies who were engaged in the work were the Misses Helen Barnes, Marjory Hagan, Fay Parker, Lillian Connelly, Magdalene Fettig, Margaret McDonald, Helen Mack and Naomi Reasoner. Each carried a sealed box and there was a rivalry among them to collect the largest amount when the boxes were opened tonight. The young ladies said this afternoon that they would continue the work until tonight.

In the past good sums of money have been raised for the local hospital from this source. The Day is usually held about this time of the year and the collections were unusually large last year as the tags were distributed during the Fall Festival week.

The money will be used to assist the Ladies' Auxiliary in some of the work that organization is doing. The Auxiliary has been most helpful to the hospital and aids in supplying the linens and other articles that are required. The Auxiliary has also been instrumental in making a number of

"DRESS UP" WEEK STARTS OFF RIGHT

Bright Smiling Saturday Morning Gives Impetus to Shoppers Who Are Buying New Togs.

SUNDAY TO SHOW RESULTS

Parade of New Fall Styles Tomorrow Expected to Eclipse Any Autumn Event Ever Held.

"Dress Up" Week in Seymour has started off with all indications of being a big success. The enormous crowds at the style show conducted by the Gold Mine store last night was only an indication of the general interest in the Dress Up movement, and from the way the men were keeping the clothing merchants busy today it seems that they are determined not to be out done by the ladies, at least not in this particular movement. The weather man seemingly has the movement at heart, and provided a bright and sunny morning which gladdened the hearts and brought smiles to the faces of those who have been pushing the movement.

Sunday is expected to show the results of the campaign to have everyone dress up, and the parade of new outfits tomorrow is expected to outdo any previous display of Autumn costumes. For of course, everyone will want to come out in his new costume tomorrow—the only Sunday in the official "Dress Up" period.

The campaign, which opened yesterday, extends through next week, and the spruce up idea will be emphasized by all stores next week. Now is the best time to get your Fall Suit, while stocks are full and selections are complete. By buying now you will not only help in the nation wide dress up movement, but will secure more use out of your clothing and will secure for yourself that feeling of confidence and self-respect which comes from knowing that you are correctly and neatly and becomingly attired.

Sunday is the red letter day of "Dress Up" week. If you are not yet ready for it, there is yet time, all the stores are open tonight, get in line with this movement and get your Fall Clothing now—tonight.

HAMILTON CALLED TO WITNESS STAND

President of the Columbia Club Testifies That He Gave $400 to Mayor Joseph E. Bell.

TO AID THEODORE PORTEUS

Defense Tried in Many Ways to Prevent the Witness From Giving His Testimony.

By United Press. Indianapolis, October 2.—Lucius C. Hamilton, president of the Columbia Club, the biggest Republican Club in Indiana, took the stand for the state in the trial of Mayor Joseph E. Bell on election conspiracy charges, this afternoon and admitted that shortly before the primary in 1914 he gave the democratic mayor $400 in small bills.

Hamilton explained that he told Mayor Bell he wanted the money to be spent to aid Theodore Porteus, democratic candidate for sheriff.

"We understood that Porteus was in need of help and we knew him to be a good man for sheriff. I specified that the money was to be used to get out the vote, such as hiring automobiles, etc," Hamilton said.

Hamilton said he met Mayor Bell in the Dennison Hotel. This hotel is owned by Thomas Taggart, one of the defendants.

When Hamilton took the stand the defense made every possible objection to prevent his testimony. Attorney Miller asserted Miller was kept before the grand jury all morning and "that this is not fair."

Hamilton said the money was collected from business men.

That an automobile which reported at democratic headquarters on election day hauled a load of about five men to three different voting places and that these men entered the polls at each place and later talked of voting, was the evidence of Clark Parry, driver of the auto and a state witness.

Little progress was made by the state in the early hours of the trial today. The proceedings seemed to drag.

Leon Reed testified that when he objected to what he said was an illegal vote he was slapped. He said he drew a knife in self-defense. He admitted on cross examination that he was tried in criminal court on a serious charge. He said he was acquitted.

The defense asked that the witness be retained. Later the defense showed by records that Reed was convicted on a charge of assaulting a ten-year-old girl.

BERNSTORFF AND LANSING CONFER

Neither Would Discuss What Had Transpired at a Meeting in New York City.

PAPERS GIVEN TO LANSING

Understood That Other Conferences Are to be Held at Washington Soon

By United Press. New York, October 2.—A ten-minute conference between Secretary of State Lansing and German Ambassador von Bernstorff here today was followed by deep official silence. Neither the secretary nor the ambassador would discuss in any way what had transpired while Bernstorff was with Lansing.

The secretary said Bernstorff's visit was entirely confidential and whether the Arabic case or that of Captain Von Papen, military attache of the embassy, were discussed, he would not say.

It was understood that Von Bernstorff delivered certain papers to Lansing. It was learned the conference today will be followed soon by others between the secretary and the ambassador in Washington. Lansing will leave for Washington tomorrow.

LITTLE DAN CAPID BUSY IN SEYMOUR M. E. DISTRICT

Report Filed by Dr. F. A. Steele at Conference Session Shows Churches Are Growing.

That the Seymour district of the Indiana M. E. conference is in splendid condition is shown by the report which was filed at the conference session at Indianapolis by Dr. Festus A. Steele, district superintendent.

Cupid attacked the Seymour district during the last year, according to the Rev. Mr. Steele, in his report. At the opening of the conference year there were six unmarried preachers in the district, but there are now only three. R. S. Hendricks, of Nineveh, Thomas L. Stovall, of Otisco, and E. G. Jann, of Vernon, joined the benedicts during the year.

More than 1,000 conversions have been reported. One thousand and four from probation and 424 by letter were added. There is very little deficiency in pastor's salaries. Benevolences will be greater than last year.

Several pastors have received advances in salaries, but none of them are overpaid, said Mr. Steele. He urged persons of wealth in their communities to come to the aid of these ministers.

Mr. Steele enumerated the various improvements that have been made in church and parsonage properties.

GREAT FALL RALLY AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Modern Revival Meeting Will Begin Sunday—Evangelist Davies to Come Wednesday.

A series of special meetings which has been styled a "Great Fall Rally" will begin at the Christian church Sunday. The Rally was arranged by the pastor, the Rev. W. Paul Marsh, who will preach tomorrow morning and evening. The subject of his morning sermon is given as "What Our City Most Needs," and at night he will preach on "Lost: A Man."

The pastor will conduct the Rally until Wednesday night when the Rev. Fred R. Davies, state evangelist, will come. The Rev. Mr. Davies will remain until after the meetings close.

In speaking of the Rally the pastor said that it was to be an "up-to-date revival meeting. Mr. Davies is a strong preacher and will come here with modern ideas. He is a modern minister and will explain the modern methods of church management."

An invitation is extended to the public.

TELEPHONE DISPATCHING SYSTEM IS EXTENDED

B. & O. Southwestern Will Soon Have 1,000 Miles Over Which System is Used.

Telephone dispatching will be adopted on the Ohio division of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railroad, during the present week, on the main line between Cincinnati and Parkersburg.

With the completion of the work there will be about 1,000 miles of this company's lines over which trains are dispatched by telephone. The telephone system is in use in the southwestern district on the lines from Cincinnati to Seymour, Ind., and from Seymour to Louisville.

On the eastern lines the telephone is used from Cumberland to Brunswick, Johnstown to Rockwood, Connelville to Fairmount, Fairmount to Clarksburg, Grafton to Parkersburg and Wheeling, Wheeling to Pittsburg and Newark and also on the Staten Island Railway. Even where trains are operated under the manual or other block system the telephone is used to expedite movements and afford additional safety.

The Baltimore and Ohio was the first railroad to recognize the advantage of the telephone as an additional factor of safety in train dispatching and, following its incorporation in the book of rules governing train handling, investigations were made by railroad officials of Russia, France and other foreign countries.

LAWRENCE COUNTY BOY IN HAYTI WITH U. S. FORCES

Jake Mullis, Brother of Mrs. Elmer Day, of This City, in Service There.

Jake Mullis, son of Mrs. Eliza Mullis, and a brother of Mrs. Elmer R. Day, of this city, is in Hayti with the American forces that are protecting that isle.

The following is taken from the Bedford Democrat:

With the United States Marine Corps Field Artillery Battalion, landed from the U. S. S. "Tennessee" to join the Marine Corps forces already in Hayti for the protection of American interests in that war torn little isle, is Jake V. Mullis, of Lawrence county.

Jake, who is the son of Mrs. Eliza Mullis, of Tunnelton, is a fighting unit of that highly efficient military arm of the government service—the United States Marine Corps. Marines wear a distinctively military uniform, and they perform a soldier's duties while roving the seas aboard ship. They are always first landed when trouble threatens, and they bear the brunt of the initial fighting. Usually these "soldiers of the sea" are able to cope with any situation that may arise abroad without having to call in the army to assist.

Young Mullis enlisted in the United States Marine Corps at its Indianapolis recruiting station, December 11, 1911, and already has had many and varied experiences as a member of that gallant organization "the oldest branch of the service."

was whispered among the Indians that he had been at the battle of Fallen Timbers, where the Indians were defeated by Mad Anthony Wayne, and that he had joined Tecumseh and the Prophet and fought at Tippecanoe. The Indians of his band—Delawares—asserted that he had been a chief, wise in council, great in war, splendid in oratory and second only to Tecumseh. However, he never spoke of himself to a white man. Indeed, he seldom spoke to the whites.

In Union township he and his followers squatted on a farm owned by the father of George Townsend, grandfather of Mrs. William H. Freeman, of Indianapolis. He was known as Chief Kilbuck. He was a great hunter and trapper and was often seen chasing game, but the whites were not familiar with him, for they feared him, although he had given them no cause for apprehension. It is told that he was strictly honorable in all his dealings and insisted on the same course from his men and he was careful to give no offense. It is quite certain that no neighbor suffered harm at his hands. Trouble, however, was inevitable. The buffalo had disappeared, the deer and other game became scarce; the little patches of corn could not, in the nature of things, keep the Indian band alive. In addition the Delawares must have felt the soreness of defeat and the white man's injustice, which had deprived them of their lands and possessions. In the trading of pelts for meal and other necessities, they were often cheated.

During the winter after their coming an incident occurred which nearly fanned the smoldering ill feeling among the bucks into a flame. One day a young man, a runner, disappeared, and the Indians accused the whites of killing the boy. The whites, in fear and trembling, wished to prove their innocence, and took the trail with the Indians. The trail disappeared at a sycamore tree on the bank of Wolfe creek, where the town of Henryville now stands. Again an attempt was made to find some trace. Finally one of the settlers, who halted at the tree, heard feeble scratching in the tree. He obtained a hatchet and found the tree was hollow. The Indian, starved and exhausted, had climbed the tree after a coon and had fallen in.

Almost immediately after this incident, which frightened the settlers, a tragedy followed, five miles east of Kilbuck's camp, but evidently neither he nor his men were responsible for it. At the headwaters of Silver creek, near Henryville, an old man, Huffman, was standing in the door of his log house, one Sunday evening, when there was suddenly the crack of a rifle and he fell dead. His wife and daughter, trying to escape by a back door, were also killed. A young son was carried away captive. Another son hid in a hollow log and escaped. The case of the captured boy attracted national attention, and twelve years later Jonathan Jennings, then congressman, obtained $500 for his ransom, and the young man, by that time twenty-one years old, was brought back from Canada, where he had been sold to French traders. For a time he lived with Colonel Jesse B. Durham, at Vallonia, Jackson county, but he preferred the wild life and soon disappeared. Inquiry for him and descendants was made through local papers twenty years ago, but without result. Kilbuck and his people were at first suspected of these murders, but were evidently not guilty. They were more probably committed by a roving band from the north. But though Kilbuck held his followers under strict discipline, the tension was near the breaking point and if local tradition is right, it culminated in the Pigeon Roost massacre, in which twenty-four persons, three men, five women and sixteen children, lost their lives, near Vienna, Scott county.

Locally the story was that Kilbuck had bargained with William Collins for a peck of cornmeal, but when he came to his wigwam and emptied the sack, he found it half full of bran. Then he flew into a rage, denounced the whites as the robbers of the Indians' lands, requiring the red men to eat bran.

Thirty of his bucks are said to have disappeared from the camp on the evening before the massacre and they, it is believed, committed the slaughter in revenge for the insult to their chief. William Collins and Captain John Norris, however, defended themselves successfully in one of the houses of the settlement and escaped when darkness came to the home of Zebulon Collins. This version is vigorously denied by the descendants of Collins, who blame the Delawares from White river for the massacre. It is related that men under Captain Parker pursued the ravagers, but old settlers did not credit this, asserting that everybody was too badly frightened to go far from home and that most of the people had taken refuge in the stockades and forts that dotted the country.

The massacre of the garrison and the people of Ft. Dearborn (Chicago) occurred August 7 and the attack on Ft. Harrison (Terre Haute) occurred almost at the same hour as the Pigeon Roost outrage. Ft. Wayne was besieged about the same time.

Of course, in these latter affairs Kilbuck's band could have had no hand, if, indeed, they were the principals or had part in the murders at Pigeon Roost. Kilbuck was not disturbed, nor was ever any inquiry made whether his people had any share in the outrage at Pigeon Roost. The settlers were too much afraid of him. Six months after the massacre he and his band disappeared.

Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

ENGINEER ASSIGNED WITH JACKSON HIGHWAY SCOUTS

Request of President Atherton Meets Prompt Response in Washington.

Answering a request of Peter Lee Atherton, president of the Jackson Highway Association, P. St. J. Wilson, assistant director of the office of Public Roads and Rural Engineering, Washington, announces that the Government has assigned an expert to accompany the pathfinding committee of the association in locating the Jackson Highway route from Nashville to New Orleans. Seymour and Brownstown are on this route.

Mr. Wilson, whose office is a branch of the Department of Agriculture, states that he has selected R. E. Toms, a senior highway engineer in the department and now located at Mt. Sterling, Ky., to accompany the committee. Mr. Toms will go to Louisville to confer with Mr. Atherton Monday, according to the letter. Mr. Wilson adds that unless arrangements are made for starting the pathfinding trip Tuesday, the Washington office should be notified at once. The department will defray Mr. Toms' expenses and pay his salary.

Mr. Toms is recommended as having had extensive highway experience and as fairly well acquainted with highway work in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Some Advantages Offered by the New Building and Loan Association

1. You may take stock any time you are ready.
2. Your account is kept individually,—that is, independent of any other account in the Association.
3. You can pay out your stock more rapidly than the regular rate of 25 cents per share per week if you wish to mature your stock in less than the regular time.
4. Dues paid in advance as much as six months or more will receive special credit in dividends.
5. Stock is now maturing in six years and six weeks, making the present cash cost to you $797.50 for every ten shares maturing at $1,000.00. Your profit is $202.50.

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED AT CITY PARK SUNDAY

Closing Program of the Concert Season Will be Given by The Seymour Band.

With favorable weather an enormous crowd is expected at the city park Sunday afternoon to hear the last concert of the series for this year which will be given by the Seymour Concert Band. The Sunday afternoon programs have been very popular this summer and have been attended by thousands of people.

The closing entertainment will be of more than usual interest as it will be given by the newly organized band. It will be the first appearance of this organization in public. Practice was held by the band last night and splendid progress is made with the several numbers to be rendered.

LYCEUM COMMITTEE TO START DELIVERING TICKETS

Prices For Season Tickets Remains
Same, Although Course is Much More Expensive.

The ticket selling campaign for the forthcoming lyceum course will begin next week and an effort will be made to deliver all tickets that have been pledged and also many more. The course this year is the most expensive one yet undertaken by the committee, but the ticket prices remain the same, which necessitates selling more season tickets.

The year's course is considered the most attractive one ever offered local people, and everyone of the five numbers is of the very highest class. There will be three high class musical numbers, including a band concert, male quartet, featuring quartet saxophone selections and a singing orchestra of six talented girls, an interpretative reading of a great play, and a timely lecture to balance and round out the course. Those who buy season tickets may enjoy all of these five numbers for $1.00, while children's season tickets may be had for 75 cents.

Reserved seats may be secured for the various attractions at the minimum charge of ten cents, which additional revenue is necessary to pay the expense of securing the theater. As the single admissions will be 35 cents each, there is a considerable saving in securing season tickets.

See the announcement in this issue for particulars as to dates, attractions, tickets and other information.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

The following is taken from the Brazil News:

An engagement announcement of more than usual interest because of the prominence of the young people, was that of Miss Marjorie Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Enos Campbell, of Bowling Green, and James Rumbley, of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Rumbley, of Seymour, Ind. The announcement was made in a very unique manner, at a beautiful party given yesterday afternoon by Miss Katherine Stevenson at her home on South Walnut street. Cards bearing the announcement were placed underneath the table cover on the dining table, with yellow ribbons attached to them, and the guests were invited into the dining room, and each one was asked to draw a card, which revealed the coming marriage, which is to occur in November. The center of the dining table was a huge bank of garden flowers, and baskets of yellow flowers were found in most available places, while the living room was a mass of red dahlias.

The first part of the afternoon was spent in needle-work, and later each guest was given pencil and paper to write their favorite receipt, which were presented to the bride-elect. A luncheon was served.

AFTERNOON PARTY.

Little Misses Lorinne Price, Katherine Kriehagen, Hester Bridges, Amy Bridges, Norma Barkman, Miriam Mayes, May Shields, Mary White, Vivian Hamilton, Margaret Hamilton, Viola Grimes, Florence Grimes and Beatrice Grimes, were guests at a birthday party Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Larrison, in honor of their daughter, Miss Norma Larrison, who celebrated her ninth birthday anniversary. Many games were enjoyed and dainty refreshments of ice cream, cake and fruits were served in the dining room, which was decorated with flowers.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

More than a hundred friends and neighbors were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Meyer, three miles west of Jonesville, Friday evening, in honor of the thirtieth anniversary of their marriage. Music was enjoyed throughout the evening and an elegant wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Meyer received many beautiful gifts from their friends.

PROMOTION EXERCISES.

The promotion exercises from the cradle roll and primary departments of the First Baptist Sunday School were held this afternoon. The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion. The graduates from each department passed through large arched gates representing their transfer to the higher grade. An interesting program of recitations and songs was given by the children.

FIVE BROTHERS TO HOLD
REUNION AT BUTLERVILLE

Murphy Homestead in Jennings County
Will be Scene of Happy
Meeting Sunday.

A reunion of the five Murphy brothers will be held at the old family homestead at Butlerville, Sunday. The residence is now occupied by J. E. Murphy, the youngest of the five brothers. Those who will attend are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphy, of this city, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Murphy, of Butlerville, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Murphy, of Cadillac, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Murphy and daughter, Mrs. May Hull, and two children, of Los Angeles.

The reunion is generally held each year but the brothers have been unable to meet for some time on account of the health of Isaac Murphy, of Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphy will go to North Vernon late this afternoon and will spend the night there with relatives of Mrs. Murphy. Tomorrow morning they will go to Butlerville for the reunion.

That the people who are privileged to become members of the Club are appreciating the institution is indicated by the many favorable comments that are heard. Recently two women were talking about the institution. One was a member and the other had never visited the building. The member said that she estimated the building as worth at least $25 a year to her and as the privileges cost nothing she put a value of $50 upon them. The other woman said she had heard a great deal about the building and intended to join before the basket dinner celebration is held.

The purpose of the celebration is to interest the farmers in this and adjoining counties in the building and to give them an opportunity to see for themselves what the building is worth to them and their families.

FIRST STYLE SHOW
A GREAT SUCCESS

in the collar and cuffs of brown beaver.

The hats worn with these models were all exceptionally becoming and their chic styles were well presented by the attractive group of girls.

In the second appearance suits were again worn, but as a general thing the models were more elaborate. The extensive use of fur trimming was again emphasized and the new three quarter length coats received special notice.

Miss Toms received constant applause in an exquisite suit of brown velvet trimmed with black fur. Miss Hodapp also wore a most beautiful black velvet suit which was distinctive because of its broad silk braid trimming. Miss Baxter was most attractive in a strictly tailored suit of midnight blue serge with a square collar and plaited back.

Mrs. Hodapp also wore a handsome tailored suit of midnight blue cloth, while Miss Galbraith presented a suit of Russian blue cloth which was developed in a Russian blouse style of a military nature.

Miss Grelle showed the popularity of brown this fall by wearing a very dark suit of brown and Miss Oesting showed a striking suit of blue cloth with a three-quarter length coat edged in fur.

The third display created much interest for at this time cloth and silk afternoon dresses were exhibited.

Miss Grelle was especially attractive in a dark blue pussy willow taffeta cut with exceptionally graceful lines. This model had chiffon sleeves of the same color and a large picture hat was worn with it.

Miss Hodapp presented an unusual dress of exceptional beauty. It was fashioned of brown taffeta which again showed the popularity of the straight lines in dresses. This model was trimmed by scallops and flutings of brown taffeta.

Miss Galbraith wore an elaborate coat dress of plum colored cloth trimmed with brown beaver. With this was worn an especially attractive picture hat of an unusual design, which matched the suit in color.

Mrs. Hodapp presented an especially popular model of navy blue charmeuse, trimmed with the new mufian fur, and Miss Toms an attractive blue cloth dress with messaline sleeves. The unusual features of this dress were noticed in the elaborate gold and blue embroidered binding and the long Roman sash of the blue cloth which was knotted in front and fell to the bottom of the dress. Miss Baxter showed a beautiful dress of blue Kayser jersey trimmed with gray cooney fur. Miss Oesting very attractively presented a dark blue dress of pussy willow silk, ornamented with kimmer fur.

The separate coats which were next exhibited were of exceptional beauty and elegance. Miss Oesting wore a most attractive novelty coat of black and grey cheeck made in the popular belted style. A green cloth coat with a black fox shawl collar, which was worn by Miss Toms, excited much enthusiastic comment. Mrs. Hodapp exhibited an exceptionally chic afternoon coat of green velour and Miss Galbraith made a decided impression in a green plush coat with one of the new chin-chin collars lined with fur.

Miss Hodapp was especially attractive in a long black velvet plush coat with a black fur collar. A black velvet coat, self-striped, which was worn by Miss Grelle was one of the favorite models shown. Miss Baxter presented an especially beautiful coat of striped green velvet with a broad gray collar and cuffs. One distinctive feature of the coats that impressed the audience was the popularity of the belted styles this year. Practically all the coats shown were fashioned with wide belts.

The appearance of the young ladies in evening dresses of dainty color and charming design was met with much applause. Miss Hodapp came first in an exquisite gown of peach bloom chiffon striped with messaline of the same shade. The dainty pointed over-drape skirt was especially attractive in this model. Miss Grelle wore a charming gown of gray Georgette crepe, whose chief note of simplicity was carried out in the pan velvet trimming and the dainty embroidery of blue and gold. Miss Galbraith was especially striking in a black silk net gown with rose bud trimming. Miss Toms wore an attractive model of lavender taffeta with the new draped flare skirt; and Miss Baxter a similar model of blue taffeta with a lace net waist. Mrs. Hodapp exhibited an unusual dress with a lace skirt which was almost completely covered by an overdrape of sky blue crepe with a black velvet sash. Miss Oesting wore an attractive gown of blue taffeta veiled in white silk net.

The next models presented were also evening gowns. Miss Oesting wore a most striking gown of bright green taffeta veiled in silk net of the same shade. This gown was elaborately trimmed with bead decoration. Mrs. Hodapp wore a charming dress of accordion plaited white tulle with rosebud ornamentation and iridescent ribbon, while Miss Galbraith wore a pink pussy willow taffeta made in a quaint style with a jacket effect and a puffed skirt. Miss Hodapp was gowned in a charming green silk net of a dainty shade and Miss Toms an exquisite yellow taffeta frock with white net overdrape. Miss Baxter again wore a girlish design of blue taffeta and white tulle.

All the evening gowns were of unusual beauty and were decidedly individual in style.

The exhibition of new corset models, which was to have taken place immediately after the style show, was not held because the corsetier failed to arrive.

Mr. Kaufman was ably assisted by his entire force, who joined him in welcoming the guests of the evening and in showing them the various displays.

The first floor of the department store received special attention from the visitors, for in each department were attractive exhibits and displays of fall merchandise. The windows of the store are also tastefully decorated and Mr. Kaufman and his assistants received many compliments on the appearance of the store and the quality of merchandise which was displayed.

Many out-of-town visitors were present, among them Mr. J. V. Hilger, proprietor of the White House at Columbus, who was the special guest of Mr. Kaufman.

SISTER: READ MY FREE OFFER!

I am a woman. I know a woman's trials. I know her need of sympathy and help. If you, my sister, are unhappy because of ill-health, if you feel unfit for household duties, social pleasures, or daily employment, write and tell me just how you suffer, and ask for my free ten days' trial of a home treatment suited to your needs. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any man. I want to tell you how to cure yourself at home at a cost of about 12 cents a week.

If you suffer from women's peculiar ailments causing pain in the head, back, or bowels, feeling of weight and dragging-down sensation, falling or displacement of pelvic organs, causing kidney and bladder weakness or constipation and piles, painful or irregular periods, catarrhal conditions and discharges, extreme nervousness, depressed spirits, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, sallow complexion with dark circles under the eyes, pain in the left breast, or a general feeling that life is not worth living,

I INVITE YOU TO SEND TODAY FOR MY FREE TEN DAYS' TREATMENT

and learn how these ailments can be easily and surely conquered at home without the dangers and expense of an operation. When you are cured, and able to enjoy life again, you can pass the good word along to some other sufferer. My home treatment is for young or old. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain how to overcome green sickness (chlorosis), irregularities, headaches, and lassitude in young women and restore them to plumpness and health. Tell me if you are worried about your daughter. Remember, it costs you nothing to give my home treatment a ten days' trial, and does not interfere with daily work. If health is worth asking for, then accept my generous offer and write for the free treatment, including my illustrated booklet, "Woman's Own Medical Adviser." I will send all in plain wrappers post-paid. To save time, you can cut out this offer, mark your feelings, and return to me. Send today, as you may not see this offer again. Address,

MRS. M. SUMMERS, Box H, SOUTH BEND, IND.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Thomas Sheridan, who claimed to be a jockey and said that he had been spending a few days at French Lick, preparing for the Latonia racing season, stopped off here yesterday on his way to Cincinnati and proceeded to put the finishing touches on his preliminary training by imbibing a few high balls. He was taken into custody last night on a charge of intoxication, after he had been warned in the afternoon to leave the city. He was arraigned in police court this morning and on a plea of guilty was given $1 and costs. As he had no money, he will have to finish his training at Brownstown under the supervision of Sheriff Robertson.

DEALERS AFFECTED BY NARCOTIC SALES RULING

Signing of Order in Firm Name, With Nothing to Indicate Who Wrote It is Not Permissible.

Much importance is attached to the recent ruling by the commissioner of internal revenue concerning the manner in which the sales of narcotics must henceforth be conducted. Notice of the order has been received by Peter Krueyer, collector of internal revenue here, and at once turned over to the narcotic department. The notice reads:

"The signing of narcotic order forms with a firm name, with no other name to indicate who wrote the order, will not be permitted. The name of the principal officer of a firm, corporation, partnership or company, or the person who is granted, through power of an attorney, authority to sign such orders, must invariably appear thereon, and druggists and dealers are cautioned against filling such orders unless these requirements are complied with. Stamps or printed signatures on order forms are not permitted, and in every instance there must be an indication of individual responsibility in the preparing and signing of these forms."

It is Mr. Krueyer's explanation that unless the new order is complied with, the dealer, instead of the buyer, will be held responsible. The narcotic department, under Mr. Krueyer, has many individual cases waiting action by the federal grand jury, and to avoid possible complications with firms, companies or partnerships, notice of the new order will be distributed at once.

Wm. McGinty, who was formerly connected with the B. & O. S-W. offices here, but who has recently been in the Cincinnati offices, is spending a few days with his many friends in the city.

CHAPTER XXI.

Allison's Private and Particular Devil.

The free and entirely uncurbed enjoyed an unusual treat. It had a sensation which did not need to be supported by a hectic imagination or a lurid vocabulary. Vedder court had been condemned for the use of the Municipal Transportation company! A new eight-track, double-deck tube was to be constructed through Crescent island to the mainland!

Grand climax! Through this tube and into Vedder court, at the platforms of the surface and L and sub-way cars, were to come the passenger trains of the new Atlantic-Pacific railroad, a line three hundred miles shorter than any now stretching between Broadway and the Golden Gate! Any reader of the daily press, of whom there are several, knows precisely what the free and entirely uncurbed did with this bit of simon-pure information. The glittering details began on the first page, turned on the second, continued on the fourth, jumped over to the seventh, and finished back among the real estate ads. It began early in the morning and it continued until late at night, fresh details piling upon each other in mad profusion, their importance limited only by the restrictions of type!

Extra! The trick by which the A.-P. ran through the mountains over the Inland Pacific track!

Extra, extra! The compulsion by which the Midcontinent was brought to complete the big gap in the new A.-P. system!

Tremendous extra! The contracts of freightage, subject strictly to the interstate commerce law, between A.-P. and the cereal trust, the metal trust, the fuel trust, the cloth trust, and all the other iniquitous combina-

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these reagents, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face."

"But to get liver and bowels working and the system free of the producing after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its similarity to the mineral of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'Santal' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Santal tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits. "Santal tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime, and realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Santal tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complex skin difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "santal tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives. Santal tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpensiveness is another reason for the popularity of santal tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

tions in restraint of everything! Wow! Zowie! That was the hot one! The A.-P. was the main stem, and within thirteen seconds of the appearance on the streets of the tremendous extra, every other fragile branchlet of a railroad not under the immediate protection of the A.-P., was reduced to a shrivel, and its stocks began to drop with the sickening plunge of an unopened parachute!

Gail Sargent kept Nanette on the rush for extras from the first yell on the streets, and she read every word, including the underlines on the miscellaneous portraits of Allison and the funny p-lines which invariably occurred in the middle of the most interesting sentences.

It was true, all true! Here was the first step in Allison's tremendous project an accomplished fact. The rest of it would be gradually revealed, from day to day, as suited his needs, and the empire he had planned would spread, until its circle touched, and overlapped, and broke into an intricate webbing, over all the land and water of the earth! And she was to be the empress!

Was she? Through all the night she had battled that question, and the battle had left traces of darkness around her luminous eyes.

Late in the afternoon Jim Sargent came home, drawn, fagged, and with hollows under his eyes. He had a violent headache, and he looked ten years older. He walked slowly into the library where Mrs. Sargent and Mrs. Davies and Gail were discussing the future of Vedder court, and dropped into a chair.

Grace Sargent rang a bell instantly. When Jim felt that way, he needed a hot drink first of all.

"What is the matter?" she asked him, the creases of worry flashing into her brow.

"It's been a hard day," he explained, forcing himself, with an effort, to answer. Years of persistent experience had taught him to follow the line of least resistance. "There has been a panic on 'change. Railroads are going to smash all up and down the line. Allison's new A.-P. road. It's the star pricy of the century. Allison has brought into the railroad game the same rough-shod methods he used in his traction manipulations."

"Has your company been hurt, Jim?" asked his wife, fully prepared for the worst, and making up her mind to bear up bravely under it.

"Not yet," replied Sargent, and he passed his hand over his brow. He was already making a tremendous effort to brace himself for tomorrow's ordeal. "I escaped today by an accident. By some mistake the Towando Valley was mentioned as belonging to the new A.-P. combination. Of course I didn't correct it, but tomorrow they'll know."

"Mr. Allison was responsible for that statement," Gail serenely informed her uncle. "He promised he'd take care of you."

"Great guns!" exploded her uncle. "What did you know about this thing?"

"All of it," smiled Gail. She had known that Allison would keep his word, but it gave her a strange sense of relief that he had done so.

Her Aunt Helen turned to her with a commanding eye; but Gail merely dimpled.

"Of course I couldn't say anything," went on Gail. "It was all in confidence. Isn't it glorious, Uncle Jim?"

"You wouldn't have thought so if you'd been down town today," responded her uncle, trying again to erase from his brow the damage which had been done to his nerves. "They wanted to mob Allison! He has cut the ground from under the entire railroad business of the United States! Their stocks have deflated an aggregate of billions of dollars, and the slump is permanent! He has bankrupted a host of men, rifled the pockets of a million poor investors; he has demoralized the entire transportation commerce of the United States; and he gave no one the show of a rat in a trap!"

"Isn't that business?" asked Gail, the red spots beginning to come into her cheeks.

"Not quite!" snapped her Uncle Jim. "Fiction has made that the universal idea, but there are decent men in business. The majority of them are, even in railroad. Most roads are organized and conducted for the sole purpose of carrying freight and passengers at a profit for the stockholders, and spectacular stock jobbing deals are the exception rather than the rule."

"Has Mr. Allison been more unfair than others who have made big consolidations?" demanded Gail, again aware of the severely inquiring eye of Aunt Helen.

Take a Hint From Nature

Dame Nature, as you have doubtless noticed, is all spruced up in her new autumn costume. Looks nice, too, doesn't she?

Have you taken nature's hint and dressed up yet? If not, next week is the official time to don your autumn garb.

It's "Dress Up" Week

The city will be all dressed up, presenting a spick and span appearance, and everyone is urged to do likewise.

Get that new suit you are going to buy. Your friends will be looking for it on you next week.

That hat you've been admiring in the show window will be snapped up by some one else if you don't hurry.

And say, those low cut shoes will look a whole lot better next June than now.

Get your's now. Don't take the left overs. You're prosperous,—look the part.

court," went on Sargent. "If he had condemned it outright for the Municipal Transportation company, he would have had to pay us about the amount of his original offer; but his own private and particular devil put the idea into his head that the Vedder court tenements should be torn down anyhow, for the good of the public! So he had the buildings condemned first, destroying six million dollars' worth of value; then he had the ground condemned! Tim Corman probably got about a million dollars for that humanitarian job!"

A wild fit of sobbing startled them all.

at the Panama-Pacific Exposition and will also visit other points of interest in the West before returning home.

Mr. Hustedt has engaged Lem Manuel, of Indianapolis, to take care of his business while he is away. Mr. Manuel is a licensed embalmer and was engaged as a funeral director near Freetown for some time.

Mrs. Catherine Hauenschild, who has been seriously ill for the past week, remains about the same.

"Lowe Brothers Hard Drying Floor Paint is just the thing for our old floors—"

"It is easy to apply—we can do it ourselves—and so inexpensive. It wears well, too, and makes the floors much easier to keep clean, thus making them more sanitary for the children to play upon. There is quite a variety of attractive colors to choose from."

Lowe Brothers Hard Drying Floor Paint is made especially for use on floors where more expensive finishes are not desired. It dries hard enough in twelve hours to walk upon. Get a color card at our store.

permanent improvements at the building.

The young ladies who aided in the tag day plans today are to be commended for their assistance. They have spent the entire day in the business district and to those who were not familiar with the purpose of the plan fully explained how the money would be used. During the day quite a number of substantial contributions were made, and scores of quarters, dimes and nickles fell into the boxes. Each donor was decorated with a card when the contribution fell into the box and the tag served as a receipt when the donor was seen by other members of the group of young ladies.

J. U. MONTGOMERY WILL MANAGE THE HANLY FARM

Well Known Farmer Will Give Special Attention to Stock Raising —To Move Soon.

J. U. Montgomery, a well known farmer, who has been living on the Nicholas Schafer farm, two miles east of the city, will take charge of the farm owned by Former Governor Frank E. Hanly, six miles east of the city. The farm has been tenanted by Earl Peugh, who will leave soon for the northern part of the state to engage in farming.

Mr. Montgomery is recognized as an experienced farmer and is thoroughly qualified to take charge of the Hanly farm. Especial attention is given on that place to stock raising. Mr. Montgomery expects to emphasize this and yet at the same time bring the land up to a higher state of productiveness. He expects to take charge of the farm in a few days.

J. H. Thomas, superintendent of the Medora schools, was here today. He was accompanied by his son.

149 DEAD IN HURRICANE AREA

Damage to Property Will Run into Millions.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 2.—Reports from scattered sections of the hurricane area in Louisiana and the Mississippi gulf coast gave 149 known dead, 160 others reported dead and 105 missing. Hundreds of persons along the Mississippi and interior points are marooned in flooded parts.

The property damage will run into millions. It is reported that families have been rendered homeless, and there will be much suffering among the poorer classes, especially in the outlying districts. Relief committees will probably be organized at once and steps taken to relieve the worst of the suffering.

Bedford, Ind., Oct. 2.—When the north-bound Monon accommodation arrived here a half-grown black cat was found on the end of a brake beam. The porter excitedly hustled the cat from the beam, regarding it as a hoodoo for the train.

Winchester, Ind., Oct. 2.—Earl Mendenhall, deputy assessor, suffered a broken nose and other injuries when an automobile tire which he was inflating burst.

Cambridge City, Ind., Oct. 2.—Henry Gwinne, eighty, was struck and fatally injured by a Lake Erie & Western railroad train, dying later at a physician's office.

Save Your Money

Twenty-five cents each week laid away with the Co-operative Building and Loan Association will earn enough in a little over six years to amount to One Hundred Dollars.

You can save as many quarters each week as you wish. Every share will mean a hundred dollars at the maturity of your stock.

Series K will open Monday, Oct. 4. See the secretary and arrange for as many shares as you can carry conveniently. Begin the habit of regular saving and you will be surprised how rapidly the money accumulates.

WILLIE'S NEW WRINKLE FOR THE DISCIPLES OF IZAAK WALTON

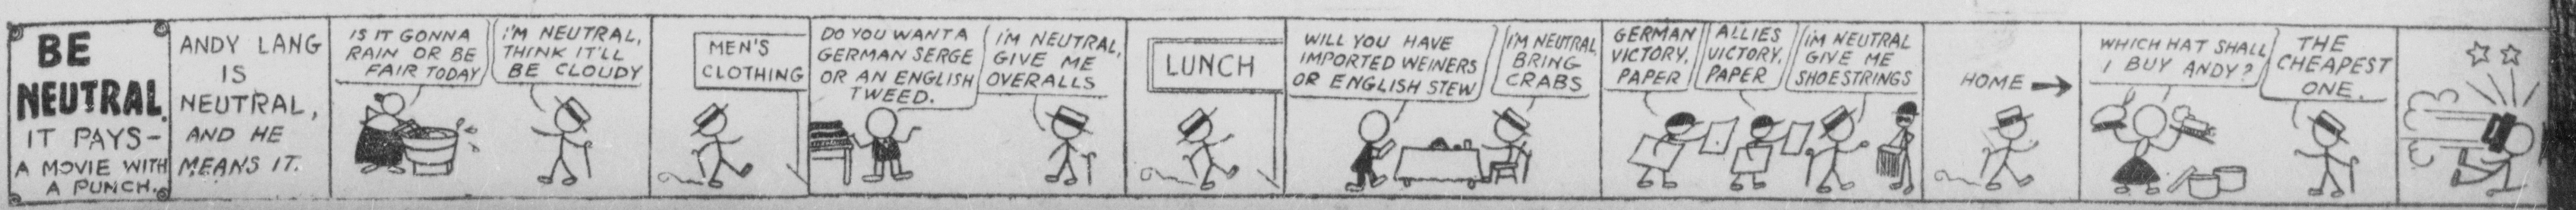

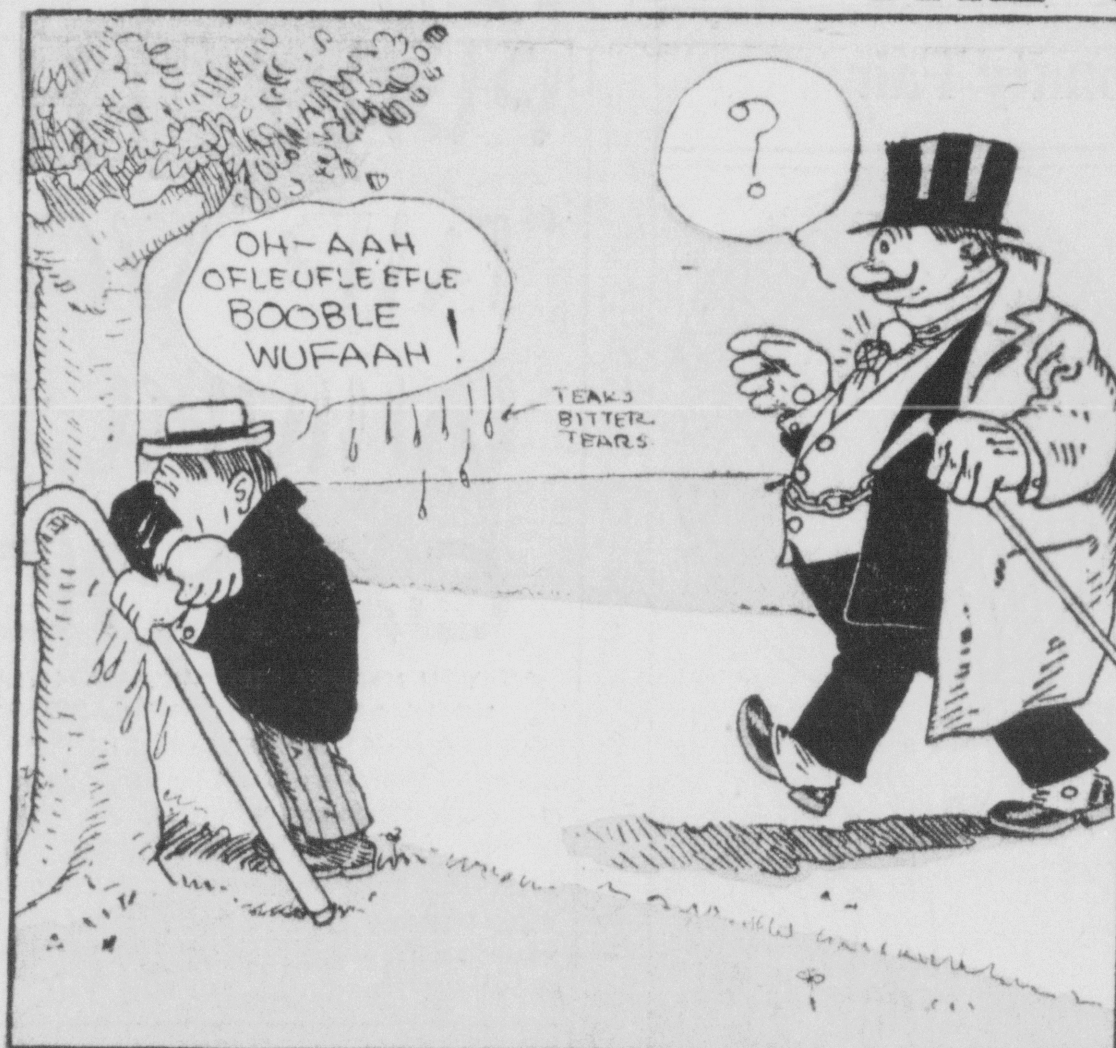

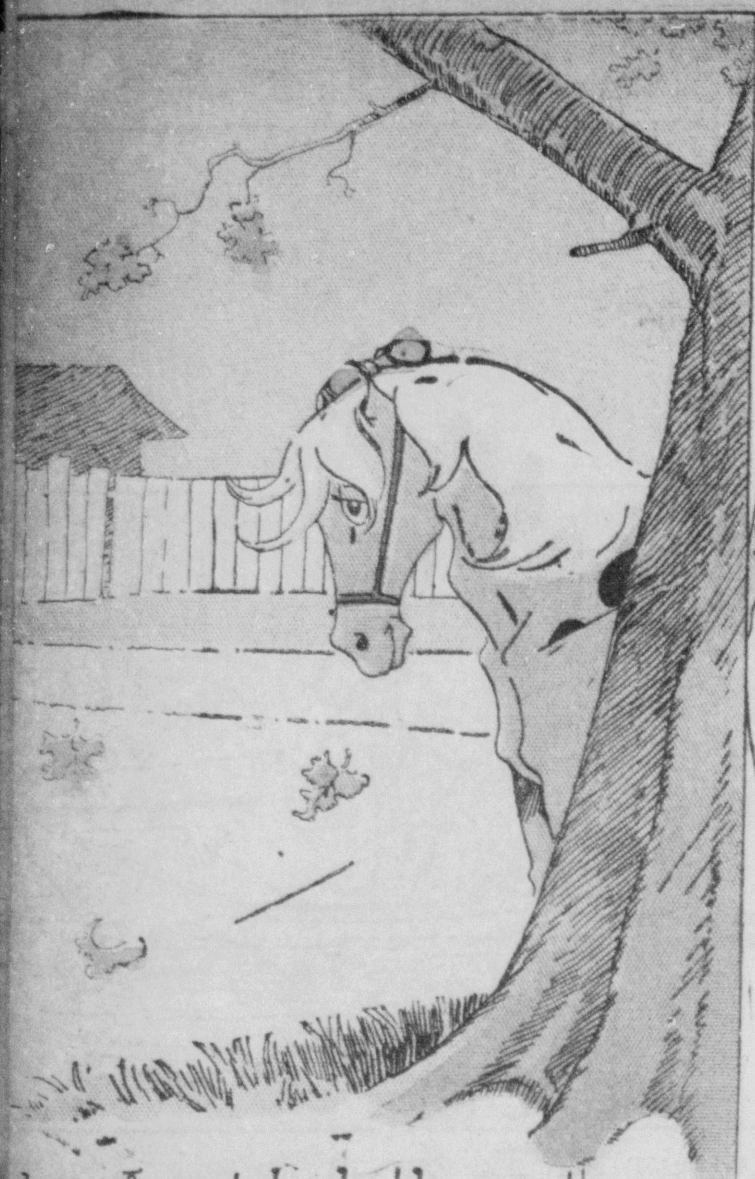

DEAR TOMMY: This is a diagram of a new scheme for fishing. I had the whole outfit made at the Edison laboratory at Orange, N. J. No wonder Mr. Edison can do such wonderful stunts, with the smart assistants he has. The hooks worked like a charm, only we got most of them out on one side and struck a school of codfish. We caught so many they upset the boat. I did even get my feet wet, but Papa got soaked!

Yours, etc.,
WILLIE.

DOES IT ALWAYS PAY TO PITY THE UNFORTUNATE?

day. I watched the pretty red leaves come tumbling down and it gave me an idea—

After Andy and Wendy had raked the leaves—

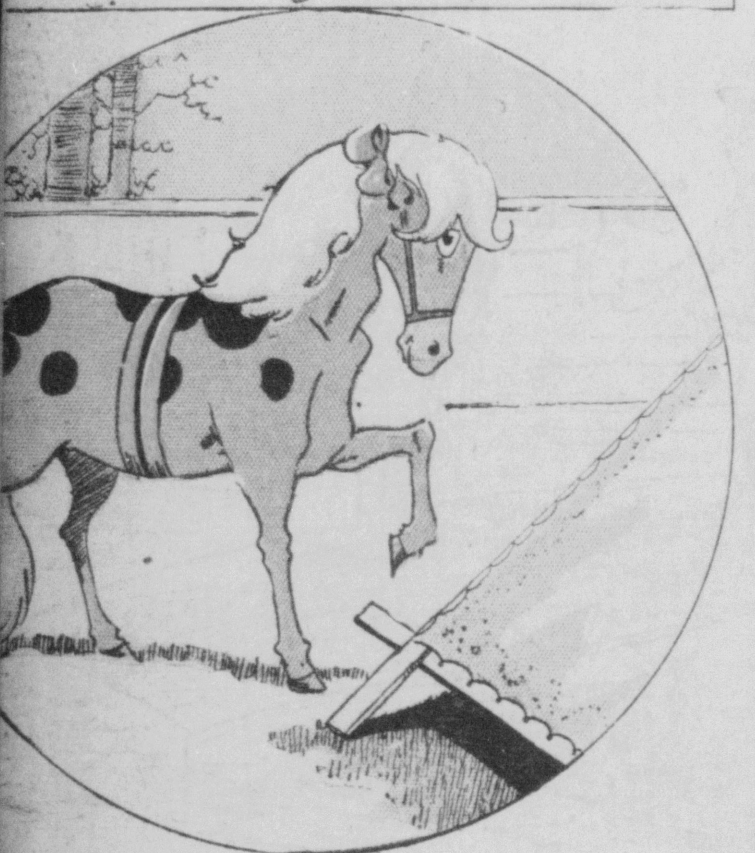

World Color Printing Co., St. Louis, Mo.

—and I had taken them in a little wagon—

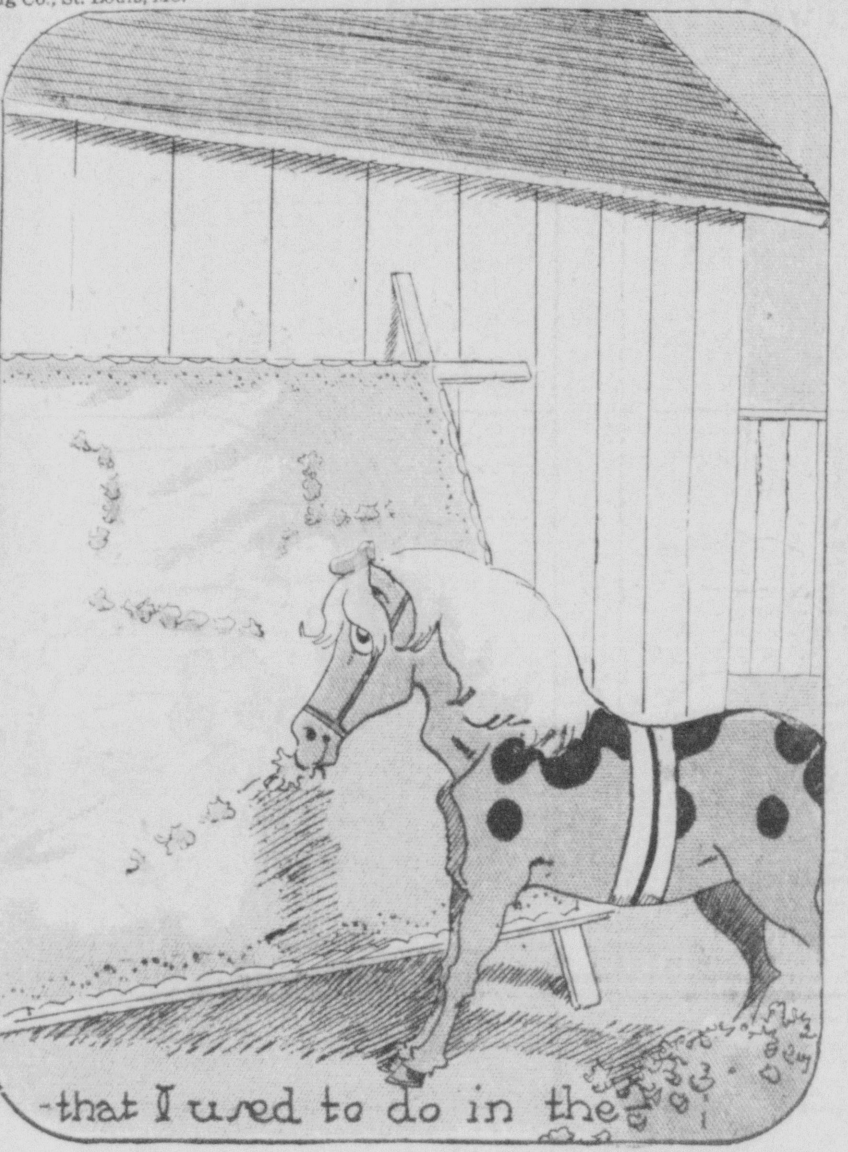

—to a pile behind the barn—

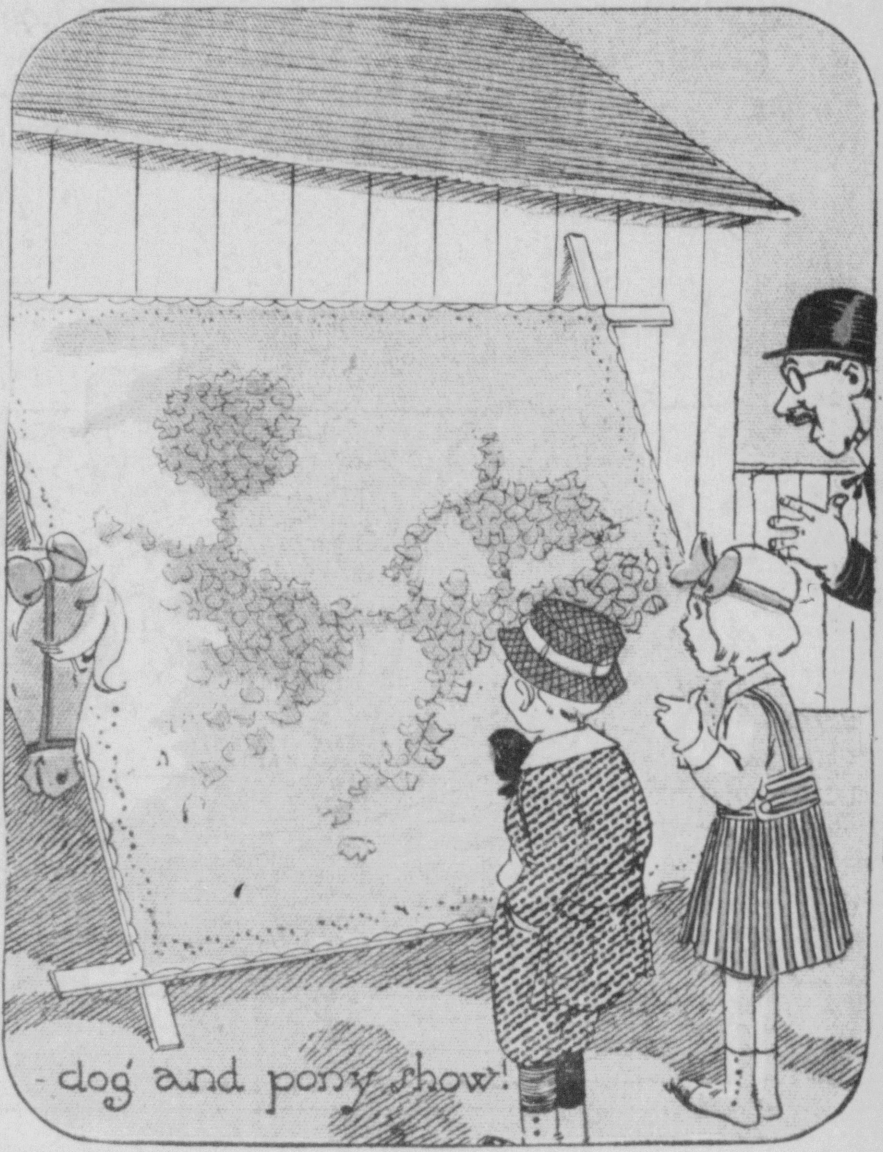

at a lace curtain that mother was stretching and——moved it out behind the barn and with the pretty leaves I did a little stunt—

ANNA BELLE Attends the County Fair

Dear Friends:—Of course, you enjoy the county fair, if your county has one. I'm so glad our's does, as it is a big event for the fall days when all the harvest is in. Our school always closes during the fair and on one day we are admitted free. Uncle Ezra says the fairs now are nothing like they used to be, for now they want auto racing and aeroplanes flying instead of horses and balloons.

Good letters continue to come telling of fine work in our SEWING SOCIETY and we ought to feel very proud of what we're doing to make the poor girls and boys we know enjoy life more than they do. If you haven't sent for your Certificate of Membership now is the time to do so. The cold days of winter will soon be here and we'll have lots of work ahead of us. Just address me care this paper, enclose a two-cent stamp for postage and I'll be glad to send you one. Or, if you're an officer in your Society will send them for yourself and members. Lovingly,

Anna Belle
